IT IS WELL KNOWN
To Opticians that if the Eye is confused by the trying on of half a dozen or more glasses of different focus it is most impossible to tell exactly what the eye requires.
At W. Milton Farrow's
you avoid this confusion. He has an Optometer which at one glance tells exactly the focus of glass desired.

NEWPORT EXOTIC GARDEN.
WHERE can I find it? is sometimes asked by strangers, but never by old visitors.
Now is the time to secure your bedding plants. We never before had such a quantity and never such fine plants as this season, consisting of all the new and rare plants. All who desire, is to come and look and see for yourselves. Roses, Dracenias, Centaurias, Geraniums of all sorts, Carnations, Coleous, &c., all of these by the hundred or thousand. Hundreds of other varieties of bedding and foliage plants, all at low rates. Baskets, Stands, Vases, Jardinieres. A fine lot of Ferns, Begonias, Caladiums, Palms, Euphorbins, Camellias and Agalias, Rose Buds by the hundred, and everything pertaining to a first-class Horticultural Establishment. ☞ All orders received this season for Bouquets, Baskets, Cut Flowers, and decorations for parties and weddings, received at the garden, as we have vacated our store on Bellevue av., to avoid extortionate rent, which we save by doing all our business at the greenhouses and which our patrons will have the benefit of. Trees of various sorts to be found in addition to the above. Galvin & Geraghty, Dearborn and Spring streets, Newport, R. I. my5

DR. SCHENCK'S STANDARD REMEDIES.
The standard remedies for all diseases of the lungs SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHENCK'S SEA-WEED TONIC, and SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, and if taken before the lungs are destroyed, a speedy cure is effected.
To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary diseases.
The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs; nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.
To enable the Pulmonic Syrup to do this, Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sea-weed Tonic must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver. Schenck's Mandrake Pills act on the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved.
Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative; the alkali of which it is composed mixes with the food, and prevents souring. It assists the digestion, by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood; then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to prevent fresh cold.
Dr. Schenck can be consulted at the Quincy House, Boston, on Wednesday, March 25th, April 8th and 22nd, May 13th and 27th.
Advice will be given free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer, the charge is $5.00.
Schenck's Medicines are sold by all Druggists throughout the country.
Schenck's Almanac can be had of all Druggists free. mar11-eod

KINGSLEY'S IRON TONIC.
CURES
General Debility, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, Weakness, Poverty of Blood, Pale Lips and Faces, Depression of Spirits, Boils, &c.
Everyone with no energy or strength to do anything, with sleepless nights from over working the brain, should use this remedy. It is a blood maker, and will give you a fresh flow of it through the system.
I have testimonials from the Superintendents of the best Hospitals in New England as to its value. They regard it as the BEST TONIC in the market. Druggists say, "Our Doctors prescribe and speak highly of it. It is taking the lead of all preparations of that nature. We have had a great sale of it. It gives the best satisfaction to my customers. We take it ourselves and recommend it to everyone."
Remember that Druggists' testimony is that of a large class of customers. Now Invalid take courage and try the best thing out.
This valuable medicine is for sale by Druggists. If they haven't it ask them to order it for you.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3, 1874.

Our Baby.

(Concluded.)

Now that was absurd! I know that the name Smith is reasonably common, but the doctor needn't try to make out that he has nobody but Smiths on his list of patients.

However, I answered that I was "T. Adolphus Smith." And how like a fool I felt! Only think of having to holler out "T. Adolphus Smith!" at two o'clock in the morning. I felt certain that somebody was listening at every window in the block.

But the doctor, satisfied who I was, then said:

"Well, what do you want?"

From the way he said it, one might think that he had been patiently waiting up there, and giving me a chance to tell.

But I didn't answer curtly. On the contrary, I said:

"THE BABY IS SICK!"

"What baby, said he. Now, how absurd! As if I would go poking down there at that hour, and through rain and ice, for any baby but our own baby. But I nevertheless replied, with perhaps a touch of vexation in my tone, that the baby under consideration was my own baby.

"What is the matter with it?" said he.

Now I began to wish that he would come down to the door. I didn't want to be hollering out what was the matter with our own baby, so that the whole neighborhood could be informed as to its ailments. And just then a policeman came along, stood in front of the house, and looked at me as though he felt sure I contemplated burglary. People are so apt, you know, to stand at the front door and ring the bell, when their designs are burglarious.

As a matter of precautionary explanation, but perhaps injudiciously, I said to the aforesaid policeman that I was "all right." And then he said: "What!" and then the doctor said: "What!" And the policeman, who evidently didn't see the doctor, said: "How's that?" And then the doctor, who evidently didn't see the policeman, said: "What the thunder are you talking about?" And then I said to the policeman that "I said I was all right." And then he wanted to know "who said I wasn't?"

It was getting dreadfully mixed up. But just then the doctor, who evidently saw the policeman, hollooed: "Go about your business!" The policeman evidently saw the doctor, and "moved on," after first striking the lamp post a most unnecessary blow with his club.

But I thought the doctor had addressed his last remarks to me and being pretty well worked up by this time, I said: "Not at all sir! I have told you that our own baby is sick and needs your professional attention."

"Well," says he, "haven't I been trying to make you tell what is the matter with it?"

I saw I had made a mistake, and so I said:

"Oh," says I, "I thought you were speaking to me."

"Well, for Heaven's sakes, ain't I speaking to you!" said, or rather roared the doctor.

"The baby is sick," says I. "Its little stomach sticks out, and mother says she thinks she feels a lump inside,"

"His what does what, and who feels which?" roared the doctor.

How stupid! "Its stomach sticks out,' says I, and then I heard that confounded policeman laughing.

"Sticks out where?" says the doctor.

Now who would suppose that man was a doctor!

"Why, in front to be sure!" says I; "and when I press it hard the little thing wakes up and cries."

"What the deuce do you press it for, then?" says the doctor.

And then I heard that policeman laugh again. A matter of life and death seemed to amuse him.

By this time I had lost all patience, and so, with considerable vehemence, I said: "Doctor, our own baby is very ill! Will you be kind enough to come to the door?"

At that he slammed down the window.

I remained some minutes at the door, and then I heard the doctor's heavy tread in the hall. By this time I had recovered my temper and was prepared to meet my own medical friend very pleasantly.

At soon, therefore, as he opened the door I said:

"Ah! how are you doctor?

If he made any answer at all I did not catch it.

"As I was saying," says I, "about our own baby, its little stomach sticks out, and mother thinks—"

While I had been saying this, the doctor, acting as though he was the only individual on the stoop, and apparently without seeing me, and even less hearing me, had slammed the front door and turned to go down the steps.

But unfortunately he had shut his coat flap into the door, whereupon he turned around, glared fiercely at me, said. "There, then, you see!" and proceeded to find his night key.

I really could not see the force of his remark. I was not responsible certainly for the trifling inconvenience to which he had been subjected.

The coat tail extricated, the doctor ran down the steps. In my confusion I had forgotten to tell him of the ice covered pavement, and the next thing I saw was the doctor, with legs wide spread apart, sliding toward the gutter. He saved himself from falling by jumping into a snow bank.

Again he turned upon me, and again rid himself of the ridiculous ejaculation, "There then, you see."

How perfectly absurd! There was no sence in it. Suppose I did see. What then? How could I help it?

With my usual forgiving disposition however, I ventured to offer the doctor my arm. But all he said was something about "a darned sight!" I did not apprehend the whole of the sentence.

We then walked along, each by himself, as best he could. At last I thought that, inasmuch as I had gotten the doctor out at that unseemly hour, it was only fair that I should make his difficult walk as pleasant as possible, and so

I ESSAYED TO CONVERSE WITH HIM.

Thinking that he might be willing to discuss topics of national interest, I said:

"What do you think of the Carpenter bill?"

"Whose carpenter bill?" said he.

"Why, his, to be sure," said I.

"Very well, who is his! I didn't catch the name! I suppose I am not to blame for that, young man!" replied my certainly not over-good-natured friend

"If," continued he, "you or anybody else owed a carpenter's bill, I should advise you to pay it. As for its correctness, how the mischief can I form an opinion?"

I deemed it wise to drop issues of national interest, and ventured to try a new topic.

"What will this woman's movement amount to?" said I.

"Who is the woman? What is the matter with her?" said the doctor.

Now, how very stupid! Could not any intelligent person know that I was alluding to the great temperance crusade?

THE DAY.

A correspondent of the Boston Advertiser is anxious that a monument of some kind be erected to the Rev. Dr. Channing. There are a good many Newporters who will be interested in any action that may be taken.

A Chicago paper complains that the women by improving their habits in respect to exercise and clothing are entirely too healthy and are likely to drive puny men, who are conspicuous for sharp, thin visages, spindling limbs and dyspeptic countenances, out of existence.

The census of Providence, R. I., just taken, shows the population to be 99,593. The prolonged suspension of work at the Delaine Mills diminished the population about 2000. The old city has gained 15,563, or 22½ per cent., in four years, and 15,120 have recently been annexed from North Providence.

Though Sidney Smith said that a joke could not be extracted from a Scotchman without a surgical operation, it has never been supposed that there was other than a facetious connection between wit and surgery. But the conundrums that were developed in a dentist's office in this city the other day lead us to suspect that humor and teeth may be extracted from a man at the same time, and also, that the habitual use of forceps may stimulate facetiousness. The victim in the present instance cheated the dental chair of half its agonies by incidentally asking his tormentor why Touro park is like death? The answer is that it is the common lot. The knight of plungers and gold leaf got even with his client by asking why the same locality is like a clear conscience? and explained himself by saying that it is void of a fence.

Coöperation is probably the coming remedy for the difficulties between capital and labor. In many places it is now in successful operation. In Arkansas it seems to work well when applied to agriculture. The landlord or planter furnishes land, houses, teams and tools; while the laborer gives all his time and supplies his own food. When the crop is harvested and ready for the market, it is divided between the master and servants. In this way an industrious and economical farm hand, with a wife and three or four children, estimating that the family will assist at the lighter work during the busy season, can cultivate about fifteen acres of cotton and five acres of corn the product of which can be sold in average seasons for about $1250. Of this sum, according to the share system, the laborer receives about $400 and the balance goes to the land owner.

When we read that "a Mrs. Smith" turned Mr. and Mrs. Sartoris out of their stateroom on the Baltic on the ground that she had previously engaged that stateroom who but a communist can repress the thought that democracy has exceeded the bounds of decency and safety? Mr. Algernon Charles Frederic Sartoris, who has an income of $60,000 a year and parts his hair in the middle, and his wife, who is the daughter of the President of the United States of America, after being married in the East Room at the White House and being carried down New York bay in several revenue cutters, are ejected from the stateroom they entered by a female member of the Smith family! Instead of trying to horsewhip Donn Piatt Col. Fred. Grant had better find some male relative of this particular Mrs. Smith and fight a duel with him.

TAXATION OR EXEMPTION.

I observed a notice of Dr. Alvah Hovey's views of church and state in the News of last week in which he states that it is a confession of weakness on the part of the church to ask anything more of the state than protection. I propose to show in as few words as possible that the reverse is the case—that it is a confession of weakness on the part of the state to tax churches. Protection is the common right of all under the law, whether taxed or not, therefore the churches have no special need to make any request for that purpose. It is agreed that to exempt churches from taxation contributes so much to their support and is therefore unjust. There might be some force in this argument provided we admit that the state has any just claim to the taxes on such property. The churches are founded for the public good as much as the public school houses and similar institutions, and are supported wholly by voluntary contributions. They are doing a work for the state that is really indispensable. They are the true educators, especially of the young, in virtue and morals, restraining the vicious, and in various ways raising the standard of morals in the community, thereby decreasing the expenses of government at least one hundred per cent. Surely every wise legislator will readily see that the state has no just claim to the taxes on such property, which is rendering so much gratuitous service to the government. We are a Christian nation and our government is founded on the principles of the Bible. It is therefore nonsense to say that a Chinese Joss house has equal right to exemption from taxes as a Christian church. Our government does not recognize idol worship and therefore it has no claim upon it whatever. It is difficult to realize how a Christian minister could so far forget his obligations, as to be led into such an error, and thereby sacrifice the strength of the church to an imaginary evil. It can only be accounted for in the existence of a religious pride influenced by a false idea of the union of church and state, which is entirely foreign to the subject.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—Hot-house grapes at Carry's.

—The Summer cottagers are arriving daily.

—Mr. John Allan is confined to his house by severe illness.

—A drunken woman created quite a scene on Thames street last evening.

—Mr. A. H. Lowery, from Washington, D. C., has arrived and is occupying Henry Depham's cottage.

—Mr. J. H. Stevens and family have arrived at Mrs. Morrill's cottage on Bellevue court for the season.

—Mrs. Nathan Matthews and daughter sailed for Liverpool in the Cunard steamship Hecla last Saturday.

—Mr. F. H. Story of Boston has arrived and is located at Appleton's cottage on Catherine street.

—Hon. Pardon W. Stevens was on the street this morning looking and feeling much better than he has for some time.

—The park on Washington Square is receiving some needed improvements and the walks are being covered with fine gravel.

—The Hon. Francis Brinley of this city was one of the speakers at the dinner of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery at Boston on Monday.

—Mr. John Carr is not on the police force and would not get intoxicated if he were. The officer who got drunk Monday night was John Tew and not John Carr.

—The following families have engaged rooms at the Aquidneck House for the season: J. A. Williamson and H. Hicks, from New York; W. M. Phipps, Baltimore.

—The many friends of Mr. Samuel Beaumont will be pleased to know that he is again on the police force. He is a brave and efficient officer and one universally respected.

—The story of the sale of the Barreda estate to W. T. Blodgett, of New York, last Fall is, at this late day, freely circulated through the newspapers, as having just taken place.

—The schooner John Ferris, before reported ashore inside of the Whale Rock, West passage, is likely to prove a total loss. She was in ballast and was bound from Pawtucket for New York and belongs at Brookhaven.

—There were a number of rows on Thames street yesterday, occasioned by the fishermen. His Honor, Mayor Slocum was fortunately on hand and, in the absence of the police, succeeded in dispersing the crowd, and restoring order and quiet.

—The chief engineer with his assistants and the committee on the fire department will make the tour of the engine houses tonight to swear in the new firemen, give them their badges and turn over to them the material of the department.

—William C. H. Sherman and wife, trustees under the will, of Orray Taft, have sold to Joseph J. Cooke of Providence the estate on the southwest corner of Victoria and Bellevue avenues, comprising a little over 27000 feet of land, with dwelling house and furniture, bowling alley and stable, for $32,000.

—Workmen are now engaged in removing the pavements from the roadbed of Spring street and as soon as the gas company shall have placed a twelve inch main through the street (which will be nearly three times the capacity of the present one) the work of McAdamizing the road will be commenced.

—Capt. Stephen A. Gardner has removed to safe anchorage, during the past municipal year, 2,462 vessels in the inner harbor, 452 vessels in the upper harbor, and 78 between Goat Island and Fort Adams, in all 2,992 vessels; and in his additional capacity of health officer, has boarded and examined twenty-five liable to quarantine, has buried one man who fell from aloft, and furnished a physician for one sick sailor.

—Mr. Samuel Eyles died suddenly last evening at the residence of Mrs. Bliven on Young street. He had been sick for a few days but his friends were not alarmed and while engaged in conversation he quietly passed away. He was a member of Rhode Island Lodge I. O. of O. F., and also of Aquidneck Encampment and of the Funeral Aid Society. He leaves a wife and family, but their whereabouts are unknown to his friends here and no clue has as yet been found to their location.

CONCERNING NON-RESIDENCE.—It may console some persons to know that the present chief engineer has not expatriated himself. He will reside during the Summer on the Middletown side of the boundary line, but this arrangement is merely for the season and not for a permanent thing. He has arranged to have a messenger summon him whenever there is an alarm, and he can get to town sooner than the engines can be got to the fire. It should be remembered that the chief engineer of Boston spends a good part of each Summer at the Vineyard, and that the President of the United States forsakes Washington for Long Branch with great regularity and promptness.

CITY COUNCIL.

FIRST MEETING OF THE NEW COUNCIL.—OFFICERS AND SALARIES.—THE ORGANIZATION OF THE FIRE COMPANIES.—FINANCIAL REPORTS.

Board of Aldermen.

The board of aldermen met last evening at eight o'clock. Present, Mayor Slocum, Aldermen Knull, Langley, Brown, Dublois and Weaver. The following business was transacted.

Steam fire engines and hose carriage	6,563.00
Dog fund	269.10
Reservoirs and repairs	208.15
Watering streets	3,000.00
	$340,128.26
Overdraft May 30, 1874	19,128.26

The commissioners of the Fry orphan fund reported expenditures, $490 and balance $7000. The commissioners of the city fund reported balances June 1 1873 and May 30 1874, $11,771.79 and $15,619.13, respectively. The commissioners of the Newport school fund reported a balance on hand of $1603.21. The committee on burial grounds reported their appropriation of $500 exactly expended. The commissioners of the Elam fund reported the transfer to the Newport Hospital of $3,500.93 and one share of stock in the Rhode Island Union Bank and two shares in the First National Bank.

The city treasurer reported the indebtedness of the city. Bonds falling due in the current fiscal year, $15,000. Coupons, ditto, $12,987.50. Total, $27,987.50. Amount of sinking fund, $53,972.91.

The commissioners of the Newport Asylum report that the expenditures of the past year amount to $8996.86 of the annual appropriation of $9000. The barn and sheep shed have been finished and one large cistern has been constructed. The commissioners recommend the gradual improvement of the quality of the stock. The whole amount paid into the city treasury for the past year is $1985.81. The property is now in excellent order and an appropriation of $9000 for the coming year is recommended.

The firewards reported that during last year there were forty-three alarms calling out more or less of the department. Of these, thirty-seven were false alarms and only in one case were the services of the department needed. The actual loss by fire has not exceeded $2000, which was covered by insurance. The false alarms entail a great expense on the department. A Jeffers engine and a Clapp & Jones hose carriage have been purchased this year, and also, a four wheeled hose carriage built by L. Button & Son. The apparatus as a whole is good order. Steamers Nos. 1 and 5 will need new boilers soon, and it is recommended that the boilers be obtained from the engine builders and put in here by the Newport Manufacturing Co.

The report gives a detailed description of the repairs made on engine and engine-houses and of the department's expenses, and the fire at A. C. Lander's store and the private cistern filling done last August were described. The parties benefited paid the department $1017.28 besides 120 meals supplied the men by Weaver and Bates and Mr. Hazard. During the year 2000 feet of India rubber lined linen hose has been purchased and has proved cheaper, lighter, stronger, and more easily cleaned and dried than new leather hose, besides not requiring oiling. There are now on hand about 6000 feet of double riveted leather hose for steamers use; 2000 feet of India rubber lined linen hose besides a lot of unreliable old leather and cotton hose. The report urges the necessity of the building of the reservoir at Vaughn's pond, ordered last year and the introduction at once of the fire alarm telegraph; even if it is established with only one box in each ward. It is recommended that a lot be purchased at some considerable elevation and distance from the salt water, and the erection thereon of a brick building, with a hose tower, for the storage of apparatus.

The city treasurer made his annual report on the Chapman estate, declaring a balance on hand of $298.77.

The city clerk reported for the year, 308 births, 120 marriages and 340 deaths.

The superintendent of schools made a detailed financial statement of the school department.

The petition of George Sherman to enter a sewer was granted.

The board adjourned for one week.

Common Council.

The Common Council met last evening at eight o'clock: Present, President Carr, Messrs. Hazard, Bull, Franklin, Young, Reynolds, Underwood, Cranston and Titus. The following business was transacted. President Carr announced the following standing committees on the part of the council.

COMMITTEES.

Finance:—Messrs. Ball, Franklin, Reynolds.

City property:—Messrs. Stoddard and Cranston.

Highways:—Messrs. Hazard, Underwood and Cranston.

Gas and lamp:—Messrs. Stoddard and Titus.

SPECIAL JUSTICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 3D.

Yesterday afternoon John McGuire and John Houston, two members of the fishermen's brigade who were in port for want of something better to do in their particular line, having hoisted in too much strychnine, kicked up a muss generally in lower Thames street, and were pooled into the station house by officers Steele and Carr, and this morning they were arraigned before Mr. Justice Ward, and fined five dollars each and costs, which they paid and departed wiser, if not better, men for this little side view of the "elephant" of the law, and a single weigh in the scales of justice, and it is to be hoped that the result will act as a warning to others to be careful of the amount of balm they take into their mouth to steal away their brains withal, if any they have.

The Grand Secret.

The grand secret in medication is to help nature. Sustain and regulate—these are the alpha and omega of the only theory of cure that has common sense for its basis. If the nervous system is shattered, the muscles weak, and the mind, like the body, in a state of partial collapse, what is best to do? Reason teaches us the answer: Build up your man. Brace him up as you would a tottering edifice. The pabulum he needs is a tonic alterative. Bring him up out of the depths of debility and despondency with Hostetter's Bitters. They cannot injure. A child may take them in doses suited to its years years, without the possibility of harm. The enfeebled vital powers are as sure to respond energetically to their action as the wilted grass is to erect its blades under the vivifying and refreshing rain. In all cases of debility the Bitters are absolutely required. There is no substitute or succedaneum that will fill their place. Resort to the most wonderful of modern tonics, and all will be well. The sick, when at death's door, regret that they did not take the right antidote at the right time. Thousands who are now suffering from the early twinges of liver complaint and dyspepsia, will be prostrate on sick beds a month hence, if they do not arrest the mischief at once. Nothing is more easy. A course of the purest and best vegetable tonic and alterative known in modern pharmacy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will restore the digestive organs to their full vigor, and bring the disordered liver into a condition of perfect health, as certainly as sunshine dissipates the morning vapors.

Don't be Discouraged. Suppose you have "tried fifty remedies" and received no benefit, is there therefore "no balm in Gilead?" Verily there is. Your liver may be congested, your stomach half paralyzed, your nerves quivering, your muscles knotted with torture, your bowels constricted, your lungs diseased, your blood full of impurities—yet in one week after commencing a course of DR. Astral Oil.

PRATT'S ASTRAL OIL.

WHAT IS IT? Astral Oil is a derivative of petroleum, produced by a new and improved process of manufacture, which gives it all the good, without any of the objectionable qualities of ordinary refined kerosene. Explosion is guarded against, and families can burn ASTRAL OIL, with THE SAME ASSURANCE OF SAFETY AS THEY CAN GAS.

ITS QUALITIES—It is perfectly pure, containing no mixture or chemicals. It gives a clear, uniform and beautiful light, unequalled even by gas. It is free from objectionable odors. It burns in the ordinary kerosene Lamps. It is always uniform in quality.

ITS SAFETY—The Astral Oil may be relied upon as non-explosive and in every way perfectly safe to use. If, while burning, a lamp be upset and broken, the contents will not explode or take fire. It is the safest oil that can be made. Persons once using it will have no other. For sale by Grocers generally. d23

Newport Daily News.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3, 1874.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

The nomination of Gen. Bristow to be Secretary of the Treasury is favorably received by both parties in Congress, and it is thought there will be no opposition whatever to his confirmation.

The House committee on elections has informally discussed the charges of polygamy against Cannon. Mr. Haynes, of Arkansas, will appear before the committee, in connection with the charge of bribery made against him by John Bradly. The latter was Haynes's opposing candidate, and sets forth in an affidavit that Haynes induced him to withdraw by promising to pay him $1500, of which sum he has actually paid only $500, leaving due the balance.

The House committee on appropriations has agreed to insert in the sundry civil appropriation bills the following: Boston post office, $352,027; Boston custom house, $25,000; Chicago, $750,000; Cincinnati, $600,000; Evansville, Ind., $50,000; Hartford, $150,000; Memphis, $25,000; New Orleans, $191,000; New York, $1,344,207; Omaha, $2,000; Portland, $2,000; Philadelphia, $750,000; St. Louis, $75,000; California, $183,742; New Haven, $20,000; Knoxville, $20,000; State, War and Navy Department, buildings in Washington, $70,000; in Milwaukee, $38,453; and several other appropriations for the south. About $7,000,000 in all were proposed for public buildings, and for repairs, $200,000. There are inserted $292,680 for the survey of boundaries of the Indian reservations, and $2,332,560 for the Choctaw Indians.

The bill amending the patent laws of trade-marks and copyrights has been passed in the House. The bill provides that no person shall maintain an action for infringement of his copyright unless every book or article copyrighted shall bear a notification of the copyright, together with the year of entry and name of the party who took out the copyright. The bill also provides that no engravings, cuts or prints shall be copyrighted unless they are practical illustrations of works connected with the fine arts, but that prints or labels designed to be used for any other article of manufacture may be registered in the patent office on the payment of a fee of $3, which shall cover the expense of furnishing a copy of the records. The librarian of Congress is to charge $1 for recording and certifying any assignment of a copyright, or for any copy of an assignment. The bill, if it becomes a law, is to take effect the 1st of August.

NO ROTATION.—The Chicago Inter-Ocean is lecturing the West upon the impolicy of frequent changes in its representation at Washington. It says:

"No matter what his rank, position or talant, as recognized at home, he is able during his first term to exercise but a very moderate influence. It is of little avail to carry a great name from his state, and seek upon the strength of that to become a leader in that body. He soon learns that the Cæsar of an Alpine village lacks very much of being the dictator of the House. He must begin at the foot of the ladder and come up slowly, and will be tolerated in no other course. More than one worthy, but too ambitious gentleman, has learned the truth of these statements during the present session, and in a way in which he had much rather not have been instructed. Every new member realizes that a species of tyranny exists in the House which circumscribes his efforts and keeps him under. The first event which brings him anything like a cordial recognition is a reëlection. A third election places him in a fair position, and a further continuance of popular confidence renders him influential and gives his voice its weight in the councils of the nation. How wise, then, the course of the East in returning its old and faithful servants."

Hereafter those who go to Europe for business or pleasure will have to pay a fee of $5 each for their passports. It is expected that the tax will yield forty to fifty thousand dollars.

A POST-OFFICE STORY.

A MAIL-BAG LOST BETWEEN BOSTON AND NEWPORT—ITS DISCOVERY NEAR FALL RIVER AND ARREST OF AN IMPLICATED PARTY.

A man named John Dorsey was brought before Commissioner Hallet yesterday on a charge of robbing the United States mail, and was held over in $1000 for trial at the June term of the United States district court. The circumstances attending the case are somewhat peculiar. One bag of the New York and Newport mail of the 18th from Boston was, in some way, taken from the mail car while in transit. It contained nearly two bushels of mail matter of a miscellaneous character and not the most valuable of the car, but it had not been reported missing. The Fall River papers describe the finding of the bag in the following terms; A few days since, two men fell in with a third man near Brockton, formerly North Bridgewater, and making a confidant of him proposed that he join them, that they were coming to Fall River, would stop at the police station, where they would meet him. They parted, the third man went to Sheriff Porter of Brockton and informed him of some suspicious circumstances. The sheriff advised the informant to meet them as proposed and report all the information obtained. He met them as per agreement. The result was that Sheriff Porter, with his informant, arrived at Fall River Saturday evening, by rail, and took a team for Cole's station, on the Warren road, and proceeded to a point about one mile from the station, on the line of the road, where they found the mail bag. Returning to Fall River about midnight they called on Postmaster Shaw for instructions. The bag had been cut open and the letters, which were dry, all opened. It was thought best that the officer should, with his informant, take the mail to Boston and deliver it to the agent there. On arriving at the station they met and arrested one of the men (Dorsay) with whom the informant had leagued himself and took him to Boston with them on Sunday morning. Dorsay's story is to the effect he was led into the part he has acted by the party still at large. He had been knocking about Boston for some time, eating little and sleeping on the Common. On Wednesday he met a younger, smaller chap, just as rough and as big a vagrant, with no money. Their lots being so nearly alike they decided to leave Boston and seek work elsewhere. Dorsay suggested that they go to Fall River, where he had worked a little, and his new friend Burns fell in with the idea. That night they slept in the Dorchester station house, and then it was Burns told Dorsay that there was a mail bag down the way they were going, which might have money enough in it for a breakfast or a pair of shoes. Dorsay asked him concerning his plans and how he came to have knowledge of the bag. Burns would not communicate much, but said it was as big as his body, and that he with another fellow had got a little money out of it. From this point Dorsay's story coincides with William McCarthy's, the young man who informed Sheriff Porter of Brockton. McCarthy states that not having any money he started to walk out to East Bridgewater, unaccompanied. When he was in the town of Quincy he met on the railroad track Burns and Dorsay. As all were going in the same direction, he spoke, and they walked together. In the course of conversation he learned where they were going and that their stomachs were empty. This last fact troubled Dorsay a good deal and he said to Burns, "I hope you will have good luck with that bag and will get a good breakfast." This led McCarthy to inquire about the bag referred to, and he learned the story.

When the trio got to East Abington, it was thought best to make a halt, but McCarthy told them he perferred to go on to Brockton, where he had been hostler in A. S. Porter's stable and where he could meet them and left. He at once told Sheriff Porter. The next morning the two stragglers came up, and he started along with them as advised. Not much credit was given his story, and he lost some faith in the tramps too. When near the bridge to Swansea Burns took fright at seeing some trackmen he met the week before while first overhauling the bag. Dorsay did not appear to notice them and did not show any signs of having knowledge of the bag, except what Burns told both. Burns left the track soon after and ran into the woods, calling the others to follow, for he had found the bag. The bag was open. McCarthy did not touch it, but Dorsay tipped the letters out and began looking at them. The first two he took out had been opened before, and in the third was a postal money order. Burns took it and then found a $2 and a $1 bill in one he was opening. This was the bulk of all they got, when they left and returned to Fall River. McCarthy tried to telegraph for an officer to arrest them, but could not, as he had no money. He walked the twenty miles over again, and then told Mr. Porter, and the two returned to Fall River, where Dorsay was found. The question is, how this bag got loose from the rest. Some business letters were left unopened, which shows a clumsy search, and evidently by parties who did not plan the robbery.—[Boston Advertiser of Tuesday.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3, 1874.

At this point the doctor fell again, sprawling over the pavement. I picked him up and we tried the middle of the street as somewhat safer.

After giving the doctor time to recover his temper, I ventured once more upon conversation. I certainly wanted to break a silence which was very tedious and unpleasant.

"That Bismarck is engaged in a great work," said I, "When man once puts church against state his infinite intelligence can never predict what the end will be."

"Who told you to come after me tonight?" said the doctor, by way of reply. I could hardly see what our own baby had to do with the ecclesiastical commotion in Europe. I think that I judged correctly in thinking that the doctor did not care to converse farther on that subject.

"Dear mother sent me," said I, "and I am afraid she regards the case as a critical one."

"Humph!" said the doctor. "How long is that mother of yours going to live in your family?"

This nettled me somewhat. I did not like that "that" saying; "that mother" evidently implied something more than was disclosed.

However, I said, "Of course, sir, my dear mother is welcome to a place by my fireside as long as she sees best to occupy it. She will leave the moment she thinks we wish her to do so. She has often said that when ever we become tired of her we have only to find her a humble cot in some retired spot—"

"Has that baby been sick during the day?" said the doctor, without giving me a chance to finish my sentence.

That baby! Still another offensive "that!" But I was patient, and replied:

"No, sir! Our own baby woke up with the peculiar sticking out of the stomach to which I have referred."

Fortunately, at this point

WE REACHED MY DOOR STEP.

"Here we are," said I, with a cheerfulness that was somewhat forced. Those "thats" still burned in my memory, and then in a few moments competent medical opinion was to decide whether our own baby was as seriously sick as I feared.

As luck would have it, I had forgotten my night key. I had of course, to ring the bell. I did so, and then again, and then thrice, and even four times. I did not pull hard for fear of exciting or starting our own sick baby.

Suddenly the doctor caught hold of the bell-pull, and jerked it as though he was afraid somebody was going to run away with the other end of the wire.

Soon a window was opened and I heard dear mother's voice:

"Who is that?" says she.

"It's me," says I.

"Who is that?" says she.

"It is me, dear mother," says I.

"Is that you, T. Adolphus?" says she.

"Yes, dear mother," says I.

"Where is your night key?" says she.

"In my breeches pocket, dear mother," says I.

"Would you like to be let in?" says she.

"Why, of course! dear mother," says I.

"There are two of you," says she.

"Yes, of course," says I.

"Who is the other?" says she.

"Why, the doctor, dear mother," says I.

"Oh! I had forgotten," says she. "Thank God, there is no present need for his services."

You cannot think how my heart thrilled with joy as dear mother made this announcement.

"Doctor!" said I grasping his hand, "our own dear baby is better!"

All he did was to pull away his hand and make some reference to the infernal regions and future punishment. I really think he was disappointed at not find'ng our own dear baby in its last gasp.

Just then the door opened, and

THERE STOOD PHEEGIE,

in her beautiful blue wrapper. She always looks sweetly in that wrapper.

I kissed her forehead and whispered "Our child!"

"Don't be a fool!" said she; "it is too bad to have kept you on the step so long. And doctor, I am sorry, really sorry, that you should have been brought up here this dreadful night."

"But our child," said I.

"It's sleeping sweetly," said she.

"And its little stomach," said I.

"Nonsense!" said she; "there has been nothing the matter with its stomach."

"Ah, indeed! Iphegenia!" said dear mother, from the top of the stairs, "perhaps my intense love for my own child's own offspring may have exaggerated the actualities of its abdominal ailments. Perhaps I am a burden here! If so, Titus Adolphus, you have only to find me a humble cot in some retired spot, and there I pass my days——."

"Oh! good Heavens!" said Pheegie.

Before dear mother had finished her sentence the doctor had gone out and slammed the door with a tremendous noise. Immediately I heard him falling down the ice covered steps. I sprang to the door, and asked if he was hurt. He picked himself up and walked off without reply.

The next day he sent in his bill.

That was curious, as I thought, for I had paid him in full only eight months before.

Phegie says that he, of course, intends me to see that he does not want my patronage.

Dear mother very truly says that "the issues of life and death are not for man's will to determine."

I think that a very appropriate remark. But somehow Pheegie don't seem to think so.

But here I come back to my original proposition.

Why is it that doctors are so loth to believe that babies are sick?

Why is it that they show so little alacrity in flying to the infant cradle-side?—T. Adolphus Smith in the Graphic.

WHICH PAYS BEST?—A Wisconsin farmer at the first of last October purchased of a neighbor three steers, two years old past, for $80, the price asked. He has fed them about 150 bushels of corn and corn meal, besides corn fodder and oat straw. They are estimated to weigh nearly or quite 4,000 pounds. He has been offered 5½ cents a pound for them, delivered in two weeks at market, about eight miles distant. He has some expectation of securing 6 cents. At the former price he will receive about $140 for care and feed during seven or eight months.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 State St., opp. Kilby St., Boston.

AFTER AN EXTENSIVE PRACTICE of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with despatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." Figures Will Not Lie.

WE FIND, BY ACTUAL MEASUREMENT, that the different shuttle sewing machines make the following number of stitches to each revolution of the drive wheel:

ÆTNA,	5½ stitches,
SINGER,	5 "
DAVIS,	4½ "
WEED,	4½ "
AMERICAN,	4 "
DOMESTIC,	3½ "
ELIAS HOWE,	3½ "

As Shown above the Ætna Machine does more work in less time than any other shuttle machine. It runs the easiest, with the least noise, and is the simplest, most durable and best. Every one likes it.
